

Good Afternoon Rose Tree Media Educational Community –

Today is my first official day in the district and I am thrilled to finally be here!

I have been looking forward to this day for the past few months. I am excited to begin. I am eager to get acclimated to the schools and the community and to meet the staff members, students, and families that I have heard so much about.

I hope that everyone is taking some time to catch their breath and to relax at the beginning of the summer. Summer is a time of opportunity and possibility. I encourage you to enjoy a good book, see a sunrise and a sunset, and to spend a little extra time with those people who are important in your lives.

I hope to see you soon!

Regards,

Joe Meloche
